FAKE CUBAN UPRISING.

Reports of Insurrection Originated With Bandits Recently Killed. Havana, July 31.—General Lora telegraphed at 10:30 last night from Bayamo that it had been definitely determined that the reports of an uprising originated with the bandits who were shot on Monday and who had circulated stories before that date that their band numbered seventy. The government is satisfied that the incident is closed.

Troops who scoured the country in search of the alleged insurrectionists were unable to find any trace of them.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

PREPARING FOR CONCLAVE

WORKMEN BUSILY ENGAGED IN BUILDING STALLS FOR THE CARDINALS.

Rome, July 31.—The vatican Thursday was the scene of great activity both inside and outside. Within, the last preparations were made for the conclave and everything was in the utmost confusion. Workmen and servants were hurrying hither and thither, some hanging curtains, others putting in extra furniture, while porters were staggering along under immense trunks as if some cardinals expected to remain in their cells for months. Other cardinals sent practically nothing. In the Sistine Chapel work will go on throughout the night. The catafalque erected for the funeral services is being pulled down and the galleries which were built for the accommodation of the special personages are being replaced by stalls for the cardinals. These will be ranged on both sides and surmounted by canopies, all in violet except that of the camerlengo, Cardinal Oreglia, which will be green, as he is the only cardinal of the conclave who was created under the reign of Pius IX.

The noise was so great that the colossal figures of Michael Angelo's "Last Judgment" seemed almost to show surprise at the busy scene which was transforming the beautiful chapel from a religious to an almost electoral aspect. Outside the vatican the work was of a different character, the quiet work of the supporters of the different candidates marshalling their strength for the contest which is to come when the doors of the conclave are closed. No one candidate stands out prominently, as did Count Pecci in the conclave of 1878, and the discussion here is not so much concerning the superior qualities of the candidates as of the strength with which they are credited.

The majority of the diplomatic body accredited to the vatican are of the opinion that if Rampolla does not succeed, Gotti will be elected.

Rampolla in the Lead.

Those who know the sacred college best consider it certain that Cardinal Rampolla will command the largest number of votes on the first ballot. His strength, it is believed, will be about twenty-five votes, but even with this large number of start with it is thought he will have difficulty in making headway. His strongest opponents now appear to be Cardinals Serafino Vannutelli, with about twelve votes; Gotti, with ten, and Oreglia with eight. The remainder of the votes will be scattered among the lesser candidates, more as marks of personal favor than with much idea of ultimate success. As forty-two (two-thirds) are necessary to elect, the first ballot will be immediately followed by a second, called accessit, or supplementary vote; that is, each cardinal choosing if he wishes a fresh candidate, but one who has already been voted for.

It is thought very unlikely, considering the widely scattered character of the voting which will occur on the first ballot, that any candidate will receive the prescribed two-thirds in the first accessit.

If Rampolla's vote is not augmented enough to elect, it is believed that he will be obliged to throw his strength to some member of his party, and in such an event, Gotti and Di Pietro are most frequently mentioned. The latter as well as Oreglia, have repeatedly declared that they do not covet the election. If in the accessit vote Saturday morning, Rampolla's forces or those of one of his party are considerably augmented, it is believed the election of the new pope might occur at the balloting Saturday afternoon, or almost surely in those to be taken on Sunday. If, however, there are no decided breaks in the accessit vote, the contest may be prolonged until the leaders, finding their own success impossible, come to some agreement among themselves on a neutral candidate, among whom Cardinal Richelmy, archbishop of Turin, and Cardinal Bacilieri, bishop of Verona, are most spoken of.

CRITICISES RAMPOLLA.

Cardinal Gibbons Opposed to a Continuation of His Policy.

Rome, July 31.—The Italia this morning says that Cardinal Gibbons at the vatican yesterday criticized the policy of Cardinal Rampolla, saying that for the purpose of retaining the friendship of government, no matter how formed, he had thrown into the sea the best and most trusted friends of the religion. He is said to have cited France as an example and as having said that the same would happen to Spain, in which sentiments Cardinal Sancha y Hervas, bishop of Toledo, is said to have agreed. Other Spanish cardinals present, the Italia said, were attracted by the discussion. The Tribune says that the congregation of cardinals has approved the protest to be made against the occupation of the pontifical states and the law of the Italian parliament enacted contrary to apostolic sovereignty.

ELUDE THEIR PURSUERS.

Escaped Convicts Dodge Hundreds of Heavily Armed Men.

Placerville, Cal., July 31.—Although hundreds of heavily armed men are now engaged in the search for the twelve surviving prisoners who escaped from the Folsom penitentiary, the outlaws remain masters of the situation. They have succeeded in eluding their pursuers and the ultimate escape of at least some of the men seems highly probable. Since the fatal fight at Pilot Mound on Monday night in which one of the convicts was killed, the others have not been seen, unless the story of William Green, a cowboy, who says he met two armed men in Placer county today and afterwards identified them by photographs as a couple of the outlaws, proves to be true. The conviction is growing that the fleeing men are heading for the Sierra Nevada mountains and are aided by ex-convicts who live along the route.

J. W. Woods, the leader of the escaped convicts, is said to have been a soldier with the United States regulars in the Philippines. According to the story, he deserted from the federal troops and joined the Filipinos. He was regarded as a hero among the convicts, who say he was once surrounded by a detachment of troops and managed to break through their lines at night, and gathering a force of Filipinos, captured the United States soldiers and had them shot to death. Later Woods was captured and was tried by a mixed courtmartial on a charge of desertion and aiding the enemy. He was convicted, but the secretary of war disapproved of the findings for the reason that Woods, being a regular, could not be held by the decision of a mixed court.

By some means or other Woods was never tried again and he returned to America. It is said he led the Filipinos in many encounters.

ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY.

Two More Indictments Against Ex-Congressman Driggs.

New York, July 31.—Ex-Congressman Driggs appeared Thursday before Judge Thomas, in the United States circuit court, Brooklyn, and pleaded not guilty to two indictments which were recently found against him, with leave to withdraw his plea and to demur. One indictment was found by the federal grand jury in June, and the other by the federal grand jury in July. Mr. Driggs had previously pleaded to five indictments which the June grand jury found against him, and bail in those cases was fixed at $5,000, which he furnished. That bail was continued Thursday.

The last indictment found against Driggs is the seventh and brings in the name of George W. Beavers, now under indictment, for alleged bribery and wanted by the federal authorities. The indictment says that the Brandt-Dent company, manufacturers and sellers of automatic cashiers, sold such machines for $125 each, which was all the machines were reasonably worth.

There are other allegations in the indictment that George F. Miller, at that time an agent of the corporation, "contrived and intending to cheat and defraud the United States by unlawfully inducing George W. Beavers, an officer of the postoffice department, to secure from the government a contract for the sale of cash machines, did thus effect the sale of a large number of said machines at a cost of $15 each."

JOINT NOTE TO CARACAS.

Diplomats Object to Action of La Guayra Authorities.

Port of Spain, Island of Trinidad, July 31.—Passengers who have just arrived from Caracas say that in consequence of the incident which occurred last Monday at La Guayra, where as a result of friction between the Spanish consul and the local authorities the exequatur of the consul was withdrawn, the diplomatic corps at Caracas met and decided to send a joint note protesting against the action of the La Guayra authorities and the withdrawal of the exequatur of the Spanish consul. They took this action, it is said, not for the purpose of assisting the Spanish claims before the mixed tribunal, but because of the precedent which would be established and because they considered it contrary to the protocols made with the powers and signed by Mr. Bowen, the United States minister, acting as the representative of President Castro.

NEW TRANSCONTINENTAL ROAD.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Announces Details of the Contract.

Ottawa, Ont., July 31.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced in parliament Thursday the details of the contract between the Grand Trunk Pacific and the government for the building of a national transcontinental railroad. The road will stretch from Moncton, N. B., to Port Simpson, on the Pacific ocean, a distance of 3,300 miles.

The government will build with public moneys the line from Moncton to Winnipeg, and lease the line to the company for fifty years. For seven years the lease will be free, the company paying operating expenses. The next three years the company will pay all net earnings. For the remainder of the life of the lease the company will pay the government 3 per cent on the gross cost of the section. The government will supervise the building of the line, but the company probably will do the work.

Fulton, Ky., July 31.—Mistaking his wife for a burglar Charles Binford fatally shot her. Mrs. Binford was awakened by burglars and called her husband. In the confusion Mrs. Binford was shot and the burglars escaped.

PATHETIC REMINDER

LONG LINE OF HEARSE RECALLS

THE CATASTROPHE AT WIGGINSVILLE, MASS.

DEAD PLACED AT NINETEEN

THE PROPERTY LOSS WILL FALL HEAVILY UPON WORKMEN OF SMALL MEANS.

Lowell, Mass., July 31.—A long line of hearses, moving slowly through the streets Thursday, was a pathetic reminder of Wednesday's terrible catastrophe at Wigginsville, when an explosion of tons of nitroglycerin, dynamite and gunpowder snuffed out nearly a score of lives, painfully injured more than double that number of persons, and scattered half a hundred buildings over a space of several acres. The number of dead now stands at nineteen, but it may be increased to twenty-one at any moment by the death of two of the ten victims at St. John's hospital.

All day the searchers probed through the debris for any traces of possible unknown victims of the tragedy, but nothing was brought to light which would indicate that the number would be greater than reported. A small bit of cloth, later identified as the lapel of a coat worn by one of the victims already known, and a human eye were the only ghoulsome reminders unearthed.

Every portion of the ruined territory has been carefully covered.

Loss Falls on Householders.

Insurance adjusters state that the loss to their companies will be comparatively light, as only the loss resulting from fire will fall upon them. This will mean that many of the householders, nearly all of them laboring men of small means, will lose everything they had in the world. The official report of the Tewksbury selectmen, which was made public last night, places the loss in the immediate vicinity of the powder magazines at more than $100,000, and as this will fall largely upon the householders, much hardship will result. Already the selectmen have taken steps to relieve the suffering, and in addition a number of army tents have been supplied by Adjutant General Dalton to be used as temporary shelter.

A relief fund started by the local papers had reached the $2,000 mark last night.

While no official investigation into the cause and responsibility for the tragedy has yet been begun, officials who will take a prominent part in the proceedings have made careful inspection of the scene. No efforts will be spared to place the full responsibility.

WEALTHY SISTERS SUFFOCATED.

Bodies Burned to a Crisp in a Hotel at Old Orchard, Me.

Old Orchard, Me., July 31.—Mrs. Helen Martin and Mrs. E. A. Stevens, sisters, wealthy residents of East Grafton, N. H., were suffocated and their bodies burned to a crisp early Thursday in the fire which destroyed the Sea View House, a small summer hotel containing twelve guests. Their room was in the third story. Mrs. E. D. Hooper of Paris, Me., who occupied a room on the same floor, barely escaped suffocation, after making her way to the second story, where she was found by firemen. Several other inmates escaped in their night clothing.

The property loss was small.

ROWBOAT OVERTURNED.

Two Men Drowned in Sight of a Crowd at Chicago.

Chicago, July 31.—By the overturning of a small rowboat on the lake front last night, Fred Odett and Albert Mosen, employees of the Western Stone company, were drowned. Two companions of the dead men narrowly escaped a similar death and were completely exhausted when members of the lifesaving crew rescued them. The accident occurred but a short distance from the shore, in view of several hundred persons who were on the pier at the time, but were unable to render any assistance.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

More Than a Score of Others Injured by Lightning.

Lynchburg, Va., July 31.—Three persons were killed and more than a score injured by lightning at New Hope church, Appomattox county, Thursday afternoon.

The dead are: Paul Gowan, Charles Austin and Aubrey Wingfield.

DIES FROM HIS INJURIES.

Michigan Engineer Plunges From a Roof While Insane.

London, Ont., July 31.—J. W. Brown, a marine engineer of Cheboygan, Mich., apparently went crazy Thursday and the police found him on the roof of a shed in the rear of his hotel. When told to come down he flourished a knife and said he was going to commit suicide. While jumping about he plunged head first to the ground and crushed his skull. He died soon after.

BORDERED ON A RIOT.

Negroes at Boston Became Troublesome at a Meeting.

Boston, July 31.—An attempt on the part of half a dozen colored persons opposed to Booker T. Washington, president of Tuskegee institute, to ask questions, at a meeting which he was addressing last night at the Zion church, almost resulted in a riot, and twenty-five policemen were called to quell the disturbance. Several arrests were made, one policeman received a deep stab from a hatpin, while a man said to be one of those opposed to Mr. Washington, received several razor cuts and is now in the hospital.

After the arrests Mr. Washington was allowed to proceed, and spoke for nearly two hours.

At the close of the meeting both factions issued statements. Mr. Washington said in his statement that the colored people of Boston should not be held responsible for a few riotous individuals, while William Munroe Trotter, one of those who was arrested, stated that the cause of the rioting was the absurd ruling of the chairman, Mr. Lewis, in ordering the arrest and ejection of any person who missed or manifested any objection to the speaker of the evening.

It is said that the disturbance was prearranged and after the meeting Mr. Trotter and his friends admitted that they went there with the idea of asking Mr. Washington a number of questions and to resent any attack that might be made on the New England representatives to the recent Afro-American council at Louisville.

HID UNDER THE HOUSE.

Chicago Girl Figures in Remarkable Disappearance.

Chicago, July 31.—On the verge of death from starvation, Emma Neisler, fourteen years old, has been found, after figuring in one of the most remarkable disappearances ever reported to the police. For three weeks the girl had lain hidden under her home at 501 Hastings street, supplied with scraps of food by her eight-year-old sister.

Meantime the whole police force of Chicago was searching for her. She was only found after she had become nearly crazed by thirst and had picked a hole in the lead pipe with a hair pin and cut off the water supply in the house.

When the plumber was called to discover the leakage he found the girl lying under the house, pale and weak from her imprisonment and lack of sufficient food.

Lack of the girl's mysterious disappearance lies a story of her arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct, which, it is said, was followed by a severe whipping administered by her father, August Neisler. Fears of further punishment caused the girl to flee and when she found that she had no other place to go she took refuge under the little cottage in Hastings street, unknown to any one except a younger sister, who never revealed her hiding place, although the mother and father were grieving over the missing daughter, thinking that she had killed herself.

ALLEGED LEADER ARRESTED.

Winifred Baker Taken Into Custody by Danville Police.

Danville, Ill., July 31.—The police have arrested Winifred Baker, who, it is said, led the mob in its attack on the jail last Saturday night and for whom officers have been searching since Sunday. He was found working in a small coal mine west of Danville. He was armed when arrested. Ten arrests were made Thursday in addition to that of the alleged leader, making seventeen in all. More warrants are still out and by Saturday night the officers expect to have all the members of the mob in jail.

The city council last night passed resolutions commending Sheriff Whitlock for firing into the mob of lawless men that attacked the jail and thus defending the prisoners in his custody.

The council after adjournment inspected the city prison to see the damage wrought by the mob. When the aldermen entered the lockup in a body they frightened a negro prisoner into hysterics, as he was under the impression that a mob had called for him. The prisoner could not be reassured and the aldermen gave up the inspection.

WINS THE FIRST RACE.

Canadian Boat Defeats the American Challenger.

Montreal, July 31.—The first race of the series for the Seawanhaka challenge cup was sailed Thursday on Lake St. Louis and the Thorella, defending for the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht club, defeated the challenger, the Kolutoo, representing the Manchester, Mass., Yacht club. On the third leg of the second round the ruler of the Kolutoo carried away, leaving her helpless. At that time the Canadian boat was nine minutes and forty-two seconds ahead. It is probable the American would have been decisively beaten in any event for the Canadian boat drew steadily away from her on every leg.

The Kolutoo was towed to the finish line and there awaited the Thorella's last round. As the Canadian boat crossed the line the Americans cheered her heartily.

UNKNOWN YOUTH DROWNED.

Pulled Into the Mississippi River by a Big Muskellunge.

La Crosse, Wis., July 31.—In a battle with a big muskellunge last evening an unknown youth was pulled into the Mississippi river and drowned. Patrick Dugan, aged twelve years, attempted to rescue the drowning man and narrowly escaped death.

WARMLY WELCOMED

KING EDWARD AND QUEEN ALEXANDRA VISIT WILD REGIONS OF IRELAND.

CREATE MUCH ENTHUSIASM

ROYAL COUPLE GRANT AN AGED

WOMAN'S PLEA FOR HER HUSBAND'S PARDON.

Galway, July 31.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra continued by motor Thursday their inspection of some of the wildest and most picturesque regions of Ireland. The start was made at 9 o'clock from the little town of Leenan, on the shore of Killarney Bay, the local rector, the parish priest and a deputation representing 20,000 inhabitants of the wild Connemara mountains presented an address. The king, in replying, said he had already inspected some of the cottage industries and he wished to assure the inhabitants that he was equally pleased with the spirit of industrial activity and the warm welcome of the people, which he and the queen both would remember.

The hearty tone of his majesty's speech was received with every evidence of appreciation.

The royal party drove off in motors through the beautiful lake and mountain country, everywhere greeted loyally by the inhabitants, many of whom journeyed leagues across the mountains to catch a sight of them.

The motor journey ended at Reccas, where the party had luncheon. The town was decorated and the hotel was surrounded by a guard of honor of Connemara cavalry peasants from the country astride saddleless mountain ponies and wearing "Jerry" hats decorated with tri-color ribbons and green roses.

At Reccas an extraordinary incident occurred. A poor old woman approached the queen with a petition for the remission of the remainder of a sentence of six months passed upon her husband. Inquiries proved that the man's character justified clemency and the queen, with the king's permission, remitted the sentence on the spot. The surrounding crowd, learning what had occurred, cheered wildly.

Pleased the Peasants.

For visiting the famous Connemara marble quarries near Reccas the local authorities provided a dilapidated, grimy laundau, with two jaded horses and a "jarvey" of the usual class. It is doubted whether their majesties would enter such an equipage, but to the delight of the crowd of peasants and barefooted women with red petticoats, who lined the steep, muddy hill, the king, smiling at the singularity of the vehicle, entered it without hesitation, the queen, princess and the Earl of Dudley following him. The "jarvey" was somewhat nervous and the king asked a member of his suite to mount the box beside him. In a similar vehicle were Lady Dudley and other ladies of the queen's suite. An escort of Connemara cavalry completed the procession. Progress was slow on account of mud, but going up hill there were always a dozen peasants who sprang to the back of the laundau to help push, the queen smiling encouragement.

At the quarries mementos were presented to their majesties and returning down the hill the progress of the equipage was checked by two ropes attached to the axle to which a score of men were holding and acting as a brake.

Throughout the utmost good humor prevailed, the peasants pressing closely around the royal party without restraint.

Their majesties took a train for Galway and arrived here late in the afternoon. They met with an enthusiastic reception.

DEFENDS LORD MILNER.

Secretary Chamberlain Replies to Attack on His Administration.

London, July 31.—In the house of commons Thursday during the discussion of the colonial office vote, replying to a bitter attack on the government's policy and Lord Milner's administration of South Africa by Mr. Markham, Liberal, in the course of which he charged that affairs were growing worse, Colonial Secretary Chamberlain defended at some length the administration of South Africa. He said the greatest difficulty was not the reconciliation of the Boers and Britons, but the reconciliation of the Boers with the Boers. The secretary called attention to the fact that the Boers were making every effort to develop the country and were forming local agricultural associations of which the chairmen in many cases were former leaders of the Boer forces.

Mr. Chamberlain admitted that much remained to be done and said that if it was found that the work of pacification was prevented by irreconcilables, the government would not hesitate to use its strong power to deport the mischief-makers.

He was convicted, but the secretary of war disapproved of the findings for the reason that Woods, being a regular, could not be held by the decision of a mixed court.

By some means or other Woods was never tried again and he returned to America. It is said he led the Filipinos in many encounters.

ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY.

Two More Indictments Against Ex-Congressman Driggs.

New York, July 31.—Ex-Congressman Driggs appeared Thursday before Judge Thomas in the United States circuit court, Brooklyn, and pleaded not guilty to two indictments which were recently found against him, with leave to withdraw his plea and to demur. One indictment was found by the federal grand jury in June, and the other by the federal grand jury in July. Mr. Driggs had previously pleaded to five indictments which the June grand jury found against him, and bail in those cases was fixed at $5,000, which he furnished. That bail was continued Thursday.

The last indictment found against Driggs is the seventh and brings in the name of George W. Beavers, now under indictment, for alleged bribetaking and wanted by the federal authorities. The indictment says that the Brandt-Dent company, manufacturers and sellers of automatic cashiers, sold such machines for $125 each, which was all the machines were reasonably worth.

There are other allegations in the indictment that George F. Miller, at that time an agent of the corporation, "contriving and intending to cheat and defraud the United States by unlawfully inducing George W. Beavers, an officer of the postoffice department, to secure from the government a contract for the sale of cash machines, did thus effect the sale of a large number of said machines at a cost of $150 each."

JOINT NOTE TO CARACAS.

Diplomats Object to Action of La Guayra Authorities.

Port of Spain, Island of Trinidad, July 31.—Passengers who have just arrived from Caracas say that in consequence of the incident which occurred last Monday at La Guayra, where as a result of friction between the Spanish consul and the local authorities the exequatur of the consul was withdrawn, the diplomatic corps at Caracas met and decided to send a joint note protesting against the action of the La Guayra authorities and the withdrawal of the exequatur of the Spanish consul. They took this action. It is said not for the purpose of assisting the Spanish claims before the mixed tribunal, but because of the precedent which would be established and because they considered it contrary to the protocols made with the powers and signed by Mr. Bowen, the United States minister, acting as the representative of President Castro.

NEW TRANSCONTINENTAL ROAD.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Announces Details of the Contract.

Ottawa, Ont., July 31.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced in parliament Thursday the details of the contract between the Grand Trunk Pacific and the government for the building of a national transcontinental railroad. The road will stretch from Moncton, N. B., to Port Simpson, on the Pacific ocean, a distance of 3,300 miles.

The government will build with public moneys the line from Moncton to Winnipeg, and lease the line to the company for fifty years. For seven years the lease will be free, the company paying operating expenses. The next three years the company will pay all net earnings. For the remainder of the life of the lease the company will pay the government 3 per cent on the gross cost of the section. The government will supervise the building of the line, but the company probably will do the work.

Shot His Wife by Mistake.

Fulton, Ky., July 31.—Mistaking his wife for a burglar Charles Binford fatally shot her. Mrs. Binford was awakened by burglars and called her husband. In the confusion Mrs. Binford was shot and the burglars escaped.

PATHETIC REMINDER

LONG LINE OF HEARSE RECALLS THE CATASTROPHE AT WIGGINSVILLE, MASS.

DEAD PLACED AT NINETEEN

THE PROPERTY LOSS WILL FALL HEAVILY UPON WORKMEN OF SMALL MEANS.

Lowell, Mass., July 31.—A long line of hearses, moving slowly through the streets Thursday, was a pathetic reminder of Wednesday's terrible catastrophe at Wigginsville, when an explosion of tons of nitroglycerin, dynamite and gunpowder snuffed out nearly a score of lives, painfully injured more than double that number of persons, and scattered half a hundred buildings over a space of several acres. The number of dead now stands at nineteen, but it may be increased to twenty-one at any moment by the death of two of the ten victims at St. John's hospital.

All day the searchers probed through the debris for any traces of possible unknown victims of the tragedy, but nothing was brought to light which would indicate that the number would be greater than reported. A small bit of cloth, later identified as the lapel of a coat worn by one of the victims already known, and a human eye were the only gruesome reminders unearthed.

Every portion of the ruined territory has been carefully covered.

Loss Falls on Householders.

Insurance adjusters state that the loss to their companies will be comparatively light, as only the loss resulting from fire will fall upon them. This will mean that many of the householders, nearly all of them laboring men of small means, will lose everything they had in the world. The official report of the Tewksbury selectmen, which was made public last night, places the loss in the immediate vicinity of the powder magazines at more than $100,000, and as this will fall largely upon the householders, much hardship will result. Already the selectmen have taken steps to relieve the suffering, and in addition a number of army tents have been supplied by Adjutant General Dalton to be used as temporary shelter.

A relief fund started by the local papers had reached the $2,000 mark last night.

While no official investigation into the cause and responsibility for the tragedy has yet been begun, officials who will take a prominent part in the proceedings have made careful inspection of the scene. No efforts will be spared to place the full responsibility.

WEALTHY SISTERS SUFFOCATED.

Bodies Burned to a Crisp in a Hotel at Old Orchard, Me.

Old Orchard, Me., July 31.—Mrs. Helen Martin and Mrs. E. A. Stevens, sisters, wealthy residents of East Grafton, N. H., were suffocated and their bodies burned to a crisp early Thursday in the fire which destroyed the Sea View House, a small summer hotel containing twelve guests. Their room was in the third story. Mrs. E. D. Hooper of Paris, Me., who occupied a room on the same floor, barely escaped suffocation, after making her way to the second story, where she was found by firemen. Several other inmates escaped in their night clothing.

The property loss was small.

ROWBOAT OVERTURNED.

Two Men Drowned in Sight of a Crowd at Chicago.

Chicago, July 31.—By the overturning of a small rowboat on the lake front last night, Fred Odett and Albert Monsen, employees of the Western Stone company, were drowned. Two companions of the dead men narrowly escaped a similar death and were completely exhausted when members of the lifesaving crew rescued them. The accident occurred but a short distance from the shore, in view of several hundred persons who were on the pier at the time, but were unable to render any assistance.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

More Than a Score of Others Injured by Lightning.

Lynchburg, Va., July 31.—Three persons were killed and more than a score injured by lightning at New Hope church, Appomattox county, Thursday afternoon.
The dead are: Paul Gowan, Charles Austin and Aubrey Wingfried.

DIES FROM HIS INJURIES.

Michigan Engineer Plunges From a Roof While Insane.

London, Ont., July 31.—J. W. Brown, a marine engineer of Cheboygan, Mich., apparently went crazy Thursday and the police found him on the roof of a shed in the rear of his hotel. When told to come down he flourished a knife and said he was going to commit suicide. While jumping about he plunged head first to the ground and crushed his skull. He died soon after.

BORDERED ON A RIOT.

Negroes at Boston Became Troublesome at a Meeting.

Boston, July 31.—An attempt on the part of half a dozen colored persons opposed to Booker T. Washington, president of Tuskegee institute, to ask questions at a meeting which he was addressing last night at the Zion church, almost resulted in a riot, and twenty-five policemen were called to quell the disturbance. Several arrests were made, one policeman received a deep stab from a hatpin, while a man said to be one of those opposed to Mr. Washington, received several razor cuts and is now in the hospital.

After the arrests Mr. Washington was allowed to proceed, and spoke for nearly two hours.

At the close of the meeting both factions issued statements. Mr. Washington said in his statement that the colored people of Boston should not be held responsible for a few riotous individuals, while William Munroe Trotter, one of those who was arrested, stated that the cause of the rioting was the absurd ruling of the chairman, Mr. Lewis, in ordering the arrest and ejection of any person who hissed or manifested any objection to the speaker of the evening.

It is said that the disturbance was prearranged and after the meeting Mr. Trotter and his friends admitted that they went there with the idea of asking Mr. Washington a number of questions and to resent any attack that might be made on the New England representatives to the recent Afro-American council at Louisville.

HID UNDER THE HOUSE.

Chicago Girl Figures in Remarkable Disappearance.

Chicago, July 31.—On the verge of death from starvation, Emma Neisler, fourteen years old, has been found, after figuring in one of the most remarkable disappearances ever reported to the police. For three weeks the girl had lain hidden under her home at 501 Hastings street, supplied with scraps of food by her eight-year-old sister.

Meantime the whole police force of Chicago was searching for her. She was only found after she had become nearly crazed by thirst and had picked a hole in the lead pipe with a hair pin and cut off the water supply in the house.

When the plumber was called to discover the leakage he found the girl lying under the house, pale and weak from her imprisonment and lack of sufficient food.

Back of the girl's mysterious disappearance lies a story of her arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct, which, it is said, was followed by a severe whipping administered by her father, August Neisler. Fears of further punishment caused the girl to flee and when she found that she had no other place to go she took refuge under the little cottage in Hastings street, unknown to any one except a younger sister, who never revealed her hiding place, although the mother and father were grieving over the missing daughter, thinking that she had killed herself.

ALLEGED LEADER ARRESTED.

Winifred Baker Taken Into Custody by Danville Police.

Danville, Ill., July 31.—The police have arrested Winifred Baker, who, it is said, led the mob in its attack on the jail last Saturday night and for whom officers have been searching since Sunday. He was found working in a small coal mine west of Danville. He was armed when arrested. Ten arrests were made Thursday in addition to that of the alleged leader, making seventeen in all. More warrants are still out and by Saturday night the officers expect to have all the members of the mob in jail.

The city council last night passed resolutions commending Sheriff Whitlock for firing into the mob of lawless men that attacked the jail and thus defending the prisoners in his custody.

The council after adjournment inspected the city prison to see the damage wrought by the mob. When the aldermen entered the lockup in a body they frightened a negro prisoner into hysterics, as he was under the impression that a mob had called for him. The prisoner could not be reassured and the aldermen gave up the inspection.

WINS THE FIRST RACE.

Canadian Boat Defeats the American Challenger.

Montreal, July 31.—The first race of the series for the Seawanhaka challenge cup was sailed Thursday on Lake St. Louis and the Thorella, defending for the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht club, defeated the challenger, the Kolutoo, representing the Manchester, Mass. Yacht club. On the third leg of the second round the rudder of the Kolutoo carried away, leaving her helpless. At that time the Canadian boat was nine minutes and forty-two seconds ahead. It is probable the Americans would have been decisively beaten in any event for the Canadian boat drew steadily away from her on every leg.

The Kolutoo was towed to the finish line and there awaited the Thorella's last round. As the Canadian boat crossed the line the Americans cheered her heartily.

UNKNOWN YOUTH DROWNED.

Pulled Into the Mississippi River by a Big Muskeelunge.

La Crosse, Wis., July 31.—In a battle with a big muskeelunge last evening an unknown youth was pulled into the Mississippi river and drowned. Patrick Dugan, aged twelve years, attempted to rescue the drowning man and narrowly escaped death.

WARMLY WELCOMED

KING EDWARD AND QUEEN ALEXANDRA VISIT WILD REGIONS OF IRELAND.

CREATE MUCH ENTHUSIASM

ROYAL COUPLE GRANT AN AGED

WOMAN'S PLEA FOR HER HUSBAND'S PARDON.

Galway, July 31.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra continued by motor Thursday their inspection of some of the wildest and most picturesque regions of Ireland. The start was made at 9 o'clock from the little town of Leenan, on the shore of Killarney Bay, the local rector, the parish priest and a deputation representing 20,000 inhabitants of the wild Connemara mountains presented an address. The king, in replying, said he had already inspected some of the cottage industries and he wished to assure the inhabitants that he was equally pleased with the spirit of industrial activity and the warm welcome of the people, which he and the queen both would remember.

The hearty tone of his majesty's speech was received with every evidence of appreciation.

The royal party drove off in motors through the beautiful lake and mountain country, everywhere greeted loyally by the inhabitants, many of whom journeyed leagues across the mountains to catch a sight of them.

The motor journey ended at Reccess, where the party had luncheon. The town was decorated and the hotel was surrounded by a guard of honor of Connemara cavalry peasants from the country astride saddleless mountain ponies and wearing "jerry" hats decorated with tri-color ribbons and green rosettes.

At Reccess an extraordinary incident occurred. A poor old woman approached the queen with a petition for the remission of the remainder of a sentence of six months passed upon her husband. Inquiries proved that the man's character justified clemency and the queen, with the king's permission, remitted the sentence on the spot. The surrounding crowd, learning what had occurred, cheered wildly.

Pleased the Peasants.

For visiting the famous Connemara marble quarries near Reccess the local authorities provided a dilapidated, grimy laundau, with two jaded horses and a "jarvey" of the usual class. It is doubted whether their majesties would enter such an equipage, but to the delight of the crowd of peasants and barefooted women with red petticoats, who lined the steep, muddy hill, the king, smiling at the singularity of the vehicle, entered it without hesitation, the queen, princess and the Earl of Dudley following him. The "jarvey" was somewhat nervous and the king asked a member of his suite to mount the box beside him. In a similar vehicle were Lady Dudley and other ladies of the queen's suite. An escort of Connemara cavalry completed the procession. Progress was slow on account of mud, but going up hill there were always a dozen peasants who sprang to the back of the laundau to help push, the queen smiling encouragement.

At the quarries mementos were presented to their majesties and returning down the hill the progress of the equipage was checked by two ropes attached to the axle to which a score of men were holding and acting as a brake.

Throughout, the utmost good humor prevailed, the peasants pressing closely around the royal party without restraint.

Their majesties took a train for Galway and arrived here late in the afternoon. They met with an enthusiastic reception.

DEFENDS LORD MILNER.

Secretary Chamberlain Replies to Attack on His Administration.

London, July 31.—In the house of commons Thursday during the discussion of the colonial office vote, replying to a bitter attack on the government's policy and Lord Milner's administration of South Africa by Mr. Markham, Liberal, in the course of which he charged that affairs were growing worse, Colonial Secretary Chamberlain defended at some length the administration of South Africa. He said the greatest difficulty was not the reconciliation of the Boers and Britons, but the reconciliation of the Boers with the Boers. The secretary called attention to the fact that the Boers were making every effort to develop the country and were forming local agricultural associations of which the chairman in many cases were former leaders of the Boer forces.

Mr. Chamberlain admitted that much remained to be done and said that if it was found that the work of pacification was prevented by irreconcilables, the government would not hesitate to use its strong power to deport the mischievous.

Explosion Injures Six Persons.

Newcastle, Pa., July 31.—The explosion of a kerosene lamp at a Slavic boarding house here last night during a dance caused the fatal injury of one person and the serious injury of five others.

TO CHASE SATAN TO SEA.

Rev. F. W. Sandford's New Plan to Convert Maine Fishermen.

Manned by a corps of experienced devil drivers, one of the Rev. F. W. Sandford's new gospel boats set sail from Bath, Me., the other day, says the New York World. The new boat, known among the Shillabites as Devil Chaser No. 1, will first sail for the Kennebec river, where, it is asserted by the disciples of Sandford, the devil is hiding in a boat. After driving the devil to the sea the members of the Holy Ghost and Us society will endeavor to convert all the fishermen along Maine's rugged coast to their belief.

Much interest is taken in the new project of Sandford, as he declares God will protect him on land or sea, and he fears no storms or squalls, which are common on the Maine coast. He has no experienced skipper with him, and Bath seafaring men predict that the boat will soon be sunk either in a storm or by striking some large rock or bluff.

GERONIMO A METHODIST.

Noted Indian Chief Urges His People to Repent of Their Sins.

Deputy Sheriff E. C. Carter of Lawton, O. T., who was at Austin, Tex., recently, says that Geronimo, the notorious chief of the Apache Indians, who led General Miles and the United States troops long and desperate chases through Arizona several years ago, became a convert to religion at Fort Sill several days ago and that he united with the Methodist church.

Geronimo is an enthusiastic worshiper and is said to have made a public confession of his many bloody deeds committed when he and his tribe were on the warpath, says the New York Times. He has issued a proclamation to his people urging them to give up dancing and other worldly amusements and repent of their sins.

Geronimo's change of heart has caused a sensation among the Indians of Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

Novel Russian War Craft.

According to the Novosti of St. Petersburg, two so called "water protected" torpedo boats have been built in one of the government shipyards on the Neva. This new type of craft is said to be something between the ordinary torpedo boat and a submarine. It is in the form of a cigar and of small size. Its distinguishing feature is that it can travel equally well on the surface of the water and partly submerged. These vessels are known as "water protected" torpedo boats because when they are submerged the water forms a protection to a certain degree from attack by an enemy's projectiles. The boats will be tested shortly on the Neva both above and below the surface of the water.

FARM AND GARDEN

BUSH FRUITS.

Suggestions About Harvesting—Tray, Crate and Box.

The growing of small fruits, such as raspberries and blackberries, requires considerable skill and a great deal of attention. None of the smaller fruits need to be so rapidly gathered and marketed as these on account of the perishable nature of the fruit. It is very essential that the grower know when the fruit is in condition to harvest, as one or two days' delay means the loss of the entire crop. In line with the foregoing an Iowa grower furnishes the following hints in American Agriculturist:

The grower should prepare for the pickers in advance. There is a possibility, unless the pickers are carefully cautioned at the beginning, that they will put unripe fruit with the calyx attached in the boxes, and they are also very likely to make the boxes vary a great deal in the size and ripeness of the fruit. Small green berries will often be placed in the bottom of the box, with large, ripe fruit on top. It is very essential that boxes should be put on the market as nearly uniform as possible, both in size and ripeness of the fruit. This is the only successful method.

Raspberries should be gathered in the early morning, so the berries can be placed on the market before the heat of the day, or be shipped so as to reach their destination that day. A little delay in picking may often be the cause of a great loss, as the berries ripen during the warmest weather, and if exposed at all during the middle of the day they suffer considerably.

Quart boxes are largely used. These are placed in a small hand tray or stand generally used by strawberry growers. They hold half a dozen boxes. There is another device recently invented, consisting of a small wire arrangement in which two quart boxes can be placed. A strap or belt is attached which allows it to be strapped about the waist of the operator, with the boxes in front. The picker then has the use of both hands and can do much more rapid work. It is a device both desirable and convenient.

In some places where these crops are grown extensively and are harvested for evaporating purposes a small tray is used, the berries being knocked from the bushes on to this tray by a stuffed club. The tray is usually four or five feet long and three feet wide, made of canvas. The boxes are generally placed in crates holding sixteen and twenty-four quart boxes, the latter being the standard size, as shown in the first cut.

The material for the quart boxes can be purchased in the flat, as shown in the second cut, A and B, and made up as shown in C of same figure. A shows the side which is bent at the four vertical marks. B is the bottom. C shows the box made up, with A and B. The material for the crates can be bought in the flat and made up.

Fowls For Beauty.

The most beautiful domestic bird of the poultry yard is the peafowl, which is not commonly found on the farm. Peafowls are very hardy and long lived, although the young are as tender and delicate as turkeys. They have a loud, shrill call and are useful as a protection against hawks, burglars and poultry thieves, for they make a great noise when disturbed at night. They have great capacity to shift for themselves and are extensive foragers, roaming over considerable territory in search of food. In fact, their roaming propensity is the one great drawback to keeping them, as they are worse than turkeys in this respect. They do not care for shelter except in the severest weather. —American Agriculturist.

EXTRADITION OF WRIGHT.

British Promoter Will Be Taken Back to England.

New York, July 30.—United States Marshal Henckel has received from Acting Secretary of State Adee the original warrant of extradition for Whitaker Wright, the London promoter, who has been confined in Ludlow street jail since April last on charges preferred against him by the shareholders of the London and Globe Finance Corporation. Inspectors Willis and Phillips of the London city police will be on board the White Star steamer Oceanic today to receive Wright, and in their custody he will make the trip to London.

TO CHASE SATAN TO SEA.

Rev. F. W. Sandford's New Plan to Convert Maine Fishermen.

Manned by a corps of experienced devil drivers, one of the Rev. F. W. Sandford's new gospel boats set sail from Bath, Me., the other day, says the New York World. The new boat, known among the Shillabites as Devil Chaser No. 1, will first sail for the Kennebec river, where, it is asserted by the disciples of Sandford, the devil is hiding in a boathouse. After driving the devil to the sea the members of the Holy Ghost and U's society will endeavor to convert all the fishermen along Maine's rugged coast to their belief.

Much interest is taken in the new project of Sandford, as he declares God will protect him on land or sea, and he fears no storms or squalls, which are common on the Maine coast. He has no experienced skipper with him, and Bath seafaring men predict that the boat will soon be sunk either in a storm or by striking some large rock or bluff.

GERONIMO A METHODIST.

Noted Indian Chief Urges His People to Repent of Their Sins.

Deputy Sheriff F. C. Carter of Lawton, O. T., who was at Austin, Tex., recently, says that Geronimo, the notorious chief of the Apache Indians, who led General Miles and the United States troops long and desperate chases through Arizona several years ago, became a convert to religion at Fort Sill several days ago and that he united with the Methodist church.

Geronimo is an enthusiastic worshiper and is said to have made a public confession of his many bloody deeds committed when he and his tribe were on the warpath, says the New York Times. He has issued a proclamation to his people urging them to give up dancing and other worldly amusements and repent of their sins.

Geronimo's change of heart has caused a sensation among the Indians of Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

Novel Russian War Craft.

According to the Novosti of St. Petersburg, two so called "water protected" torpedo boats have been built in one of the government shipyards on the Neva. This new type of craft is said to be something between the ordinary torpedo boat and a submarine. It is in the form of a cigar and of small size. Its distinguishing feature is that it can travel equally well on the surface of the water and partly submerged. These vessels are known as "water protected" torpedo boats because when they are submerged the water forms a protection to a certain degree from attack by an enemy's projectiles. The boats will be tested shortly on the Neva both above and below the surface of the water.

Suggestions About Harvesting—Tray, Crate and Box.

The growing of small fruits, such as raspberries and blackberries, requires considerable skill and a great deal of attention. None of the smaller fruits need to be so rapidly gathered and marketed as these on account of the perishable nature of the fruit. It is very essential that the grower know when the fruit is in condition to harvest, as one or two days' delay means the loss of the entire crop. In line with the foregoing an Iowa grower furnishes the following hints in American Agriculturist:

The grower should prepare for the pickers in advance. There is a possibility, unless the pickers are carefully cautioned at the beginning, that they will put unripe fruit with the calyx attached in the boxes, and they are also very likely to make the boxes vary a great deal in the size and ripeness of the fruit. Small green berries will often be placed in the bottom of the box, with large, ripe fruit on top. It is very essential that boxes should be put on the market as nearly uniform as possible, both in size and ripeness of the fruit. This is the only successful method.

Raspberries should be gathered in the early morning, so the berries can be placed on the market before the heat of the day, or be shipped so as to reach their destination that day. A little delay in picking may often be the cause of a great loss, as the berries ripen during the warmest weather, and if exposed at all during the middle of the day they suffer considerably.

Quart boxes are largely used. These are placed in a small hand tray or stand generally used by strawberry growers. They hold half a dozen boxes. There is another device recently invented, consisting of a small wire arrangement in which two quart boxes can be placed. A strap or belt is attached which allows it to be strapped about the waist of the operator, with the boxes in front. The picker then has the use of both hands and can do much more rapid work. It is a device both desirable and convenient.

In some places where these crops are grown extensively and are harvested for evaporating purposes a small tray is used, the berries being knocked from the bushes on to this tray by a stuffed club. The tray is usually four or five feet long and three feet wide, made of canvas. The boxes are generally placed in crates holding sixteen and twenty-four quart boxes, the latter being the standard size, as shown in the first cut.

The material for the quart boxes can be purchased in the flat, as shown in the second cut, A and B, and made up as shown in C of same figure. A shows the side which is bent at the four vertical marks. B is the bottom. C shows the box made up, with A and B. The material for the crates can be bought in the flat and made up.

Fowls For Beauty.

The most beautiful domestic bird of the poultry yard is the peafowl, which is not commonly found on the farm. Peafowls are very hardy and long lived, although the young are as tender and delicate as turkeys. They have a loud, shrill call and are useful as a protection against hawks, burglars and poultry thieves, for they make a great noise when disturbed at night. They have great capacity to shift for themselves and are extensive foragers, roaming over considerable territory in search of food. In fact, their roaming propensity is the one great drawback to keeping them, as they are worse than turkeys in this respect. They do not care for shelter except in the severest weather. —American Agriculturist.

EXTRADITION OF WRIGHT.

British Promoter Will Be Taken Back to England.

New York, July 30.—United States Marshal Henckel has received from Acting Secretary of State Adee the original warrant of extradition for Whitaker Wright, the London promoter, who has been confined in Ludlow street jail since April last on charges preferred against him by the shareholders of the London and Globe Finance Corporation. Inspectors Willis and Phillips of the London city police will be on board the White Star steamer Oceanic today to receive Wright, and in their custody he will make the trip to London.

EXPERIMENT WITH ALFALFA IN COUNTY

Indications are that it will be Good Crop in This Section of County.

NO BETTER FORAGE CROP CAN
Be Planted But it has not Been Fully Demonstrated in Crow Wing.

What is of interest to the farmers of Crow Wing and Morrison counties is also of interest to the people generally of this city, and hence some little pains has been taken by THE DISPATCH to gain some important information relative to an experiment which has been carried on with a new crop, not heretofore tried in the county. The crop referred to is alfalfa and should the demonstration prove successful it will mean considerable to the farmers of this section of the country, for there is no better forage in the world than this.

While the experiment with alfalfa has not been fully demonstrated enough has been learned, it is thought, to make the crop in northern Minnesota an assured success. In fact from the investigation and from samples taken off of Sec. 5-44-30 it must be concluded that every farmer in the county would be justified in sowing a small portion of his land to the crop.

The samples now on exhibition at J. Elder's office in this city were sown in the latter part of May this year and they are of the hardy, thrifty stock and look as though they would be able to fight their own battles in the future. The samples shown had already headed at the height of eighteen inches, with a root 8 to 10 inches long.

Experiment farms gives this as one of the best forage crops that can be raised, especially for cattle, sheep and hogs. On the irrigated lands in California and Washington the crop is cut from four to five times a year and the opinion of those who have made a study of the cereal is to the effect that at least three crops a year of alfalfa could be raised in this section, and with land worth $25 per acre without alfalfa, it would be worth $50 an acre with this crop, and every farmer should give it a thorough trial.

If you are not acquainted with our store and prices, for your own satisfaction see our new line of men's clothing and shoes. You may want to know where to buy something in those lines at right prices. Come and see us, and then you will know.

BASE BALL NUBS

Brainerd will see some good ball all around in a few days. Instead of the Verdale team the locals will play the St. Cloud Redmen team on Sunday afternoon, it being thought that the Redmen team would be the best drawing card. They played here once before this year and it is well known what article of ball they put up. They are good and fast and the game here Sunday should be well patronized. The locals will have a strong lineup for Sunday and there will be a good exhibition.

ARE YOU SATISFIED?

Not. What Better Proof Can Brainerd Residents Ask For?

This is the statement of a Brainerd citizen.

The testimony of a neighbor.

You can readily investigate it.

The proof should convince you.

Mr. W. S. Benjamin, practical gang and rotary filler, of 71 Third avenue, East Brainerd, says: "Doan's Kidney did me so much good that I prevailed on many others to use them, and I know many cases where benefit has resulted. I had more or less pain and the renal secretions were acid in nature, thereby causing me considerable distress. I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from a drug store, and can state that they had the effect of completely altering the condition of my kidneys referred to above. I shall certainly continue to advise others to use this remedy if annoyed in any way from their kidneys."

Sold for 50 cents, at H. P. Dunn & Co., and all druggists. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

HIS WIFE OFF FOR ANNUAL VACATION

So Uncerimoniously that Hubby
Came Home from Work to Get
His Own Supper.

TOOK LITTLE GIRL WITH HER

A Gentleman, Well Known in Shops, Says He will Sue for Divorce.

If any gentleman in this city just thinks he has some trouble on his mind he had better see a certain shopman and hear him rip off a tale of woe, beside which all others would pale into insignificance, and he tells it too with a sort of depressed look in his face that would make a dummy in front of a cheap rag shop shed tears. And the funny part of it all is the fact that the man says he don't care now, the stuff is all off, she has got to pack her clothes for good, and yet there is a sort of a cross between a deep sigh and a movement as though reaching for a dipper to catch the dampness about to drop pitty pat from his eyelids.

Well, the story goes that this is not the first time that Christina has cut loose from her every day humdrum sort of life. Her dearly beloved says that the sweetest thing ever, left home about twelve months ago. They were living at Barnesville and the hubby avers that she never did like to live in a place more than one year at a time. They have been here now going on a year and he thinks perhaps that she wanted a change of climate for her health.

The cruel wretch, with a heart of stone, left home taking with her a 11 year old daughter, sometime day before yesterday after the dinner hour. When hubby came home from the shops where he works there was not even a warm fire to say nothing about a warm heart, a press of a hand or a real hot smile to greet him. He started in to build the fire and prepared the evening meal all by his lonesome. He thought perhaps his wife had gone out for a little call, but this proved to be a dream for she did not return that night.

Yesterday he ascertained that his wife had taken the train for the west. So he just kissed himself goodbye and returned home. He says he will not tolerate such a thing in his household; that if a woman is going to live with him she has got to do it, that's all, and there can't be any such monkey work. He will bring an action for divorce at once and it is presumed that it will be on the ground of desertion in the first degree.

SMALL CONFLAGRATION

Old Frame Building West of the Last Turn
Saloon Burned this Morning at Early Hour—Losses Fully Covered.

This morning about 2 o'clock fire broke out in the old frame building next door west of the "Last Turn" saloon on Front street, and before any effective work could be done by the department the old shack had been almost completely burned and today it is a total loss.

The building had been occupied by Seymour Avery as a workshop and another man who sometime worked in there using Mr. Avery's tools. The fire started in the rear of the building on the inside and this morning those who were interested in the place were at a loss to know how it started. The old man Avery is said to have been very much intoxicated last night and in fact he was locked up in jail on the charge before morning, so that no one this morning was able to ascertain from him what he knew about the conflagration. A short time ago he took out $200 insurance on his tools and material and his loss is therefore fully covered.

The building was owned by P. B. Nettleton. He bought it some time ago from J. L. Smith. There was $400 insurance, and this, it is thought, will cover Mr. Nettleton's loss.

Once again the old "Last Turn" has been threatened but once again after the smoke had cleared away it rises Phoenix like from the ashes, and now that all the little shacks and frame buildings within a mile of it have been burned there is no immediate danger that it will catch fire.

He is Not "Dad."

IN THE PINK OF CONDITION

A Visit to the Poor Farm Reveals one of the Best Kept and Most Prosperous
Farms in County.

Yesterday afternoon a representative of the DISPATCH, escorted by Chairman Paine, of the board of county commissioners, visited the poor farm southeast of the city and a delightful afternoon was spent in going over the fields, looking over the stables and viewing the stock. The place is anything but what the name signifies, "the poor farm," for on every hand there is evidence of a prosperity which naturally must result from a thoroughness not often seen on a farm of this kind.

Supt. McCullough was altogether too busy making hay to accompany the party about the farm, but permission was granted to go around and visit every nook and corner.

The grain is all looking very well, but not as good as in some years past, the wheat being somewhat backward. The oat crop is very good and the indications are that there will be a good yield. The acreage in both wheat and oats has been increased this year. All the garden truck is flourishing and the root cellar this year is sure to be filled to its capacity.

The hay crop was never better and yesterday afternoon Supt. McCullough and his men were busy putting up a fine crop of clover, all the timothy having been stored away in the large hay mows in the big barn. The cattle are all doing fine and in fact, as has been said before, everything is in the pink of condition. It would be a good lesson for any farmer in the county to spend a few hours at this farm and learn something about the business.

And then about the house everything is in apple pie order and Mrs. McCullough, who is matron, should share in the honor of having such a model house.

Crow Wing county is particularly fortunate in the matter of having to care for the poor. There is but one inmate at the farm at the present time and he works every day in the garden and is a help rather than a hindrance. At no time have there been over three or four in the home at one time.

The farm itself, some two hundred acres, is beautifully laid out. From the farm house the entire acreage can be viewed as it slopes off into a sort of lowering plain, the place where once was a big lake now being a beautiful sweeping meadow which is verdant with its second growth, rising again with a graduating ledge to the other side which is covered with sweeping grain. It is a most beautiful spot and is a credit to the county and well worth anyone's time to drive out and see.

The following taken from the Lockport, N. Y. Review will be interesting reading to those who know Rev. G. W. Gallagher, formerly of this city:—
"The Rev. George W. Gallagher, pastor of the First Congregational church of this city, has just been officially informed that the Nashville, Tenn., College has conferred upon him the honorary degree of L. L. D., Doctor of Laws."

"This is the highest degree bestowed by any college or university, and needless to say Mr. Gallagher is justly proud of receiving that which he deserves merits. Dr. Gallagher is one of Lockport's most popular pastors and most effective orators. He is a graduate of Princeton University and the Princeton Theological Seminary."

"For several years he was a member of the Philadelphia Academy of Science and has been appointed a professor of mental and moral science by that institution. Mr. Gallagher is also the author of a popular book entitled 'One Man's Struggle.' He is to be congratulated on this additional honor."

HIS WIFE OFF FOR ANNUAL VACATION

So Uncerimoniously that Hubby Came Home from Work to Get His Own Supper.

TOOK LITTLE GIRL WITH HER
A Gentleman, Well Known in Shops, Says He will Sue for Divorce.

If any gentleman in this city just thinks he has some trouble on his mind he had better see a certain shopman and hear him rip off a tale of woe, beside which all others would pale into insignificance, and he tells it too with a sort of depressed look in his face that would make a dummy in front of a cheap rag shop shed tears. And the funny part of it all is the fact that the man says he don't care now, the stuff is all off, she has got to pack her clothes for good, and yet there is a sort of a cross between a deep sigh and a movement as though reaching for a dipper to catch the dampness about to drop pitty pat from his eyelids.

Well, the story goes that this is not the first time that Christina has cut loose from her every day humdrum sort of life. Her dearly beloved says that the sweetest thing ever, left home about twelve months ago. They were living at Barnesville and the hubby avers that she never did like to live in a place more than one year at a time. They have been here now going on a year and he thinks perhaps that she wanted a change of climate for her health.

The cruel wretch, with a heart of stone, left home taking with her a 11 year old daughter, sometime day before yesterday after the dinner hour. When hubby came home from the shops where he works there was not even a warm fire to say nothing about a warm heart, a press of a hand or a real hot smile to greet him. He started in to build the fire and prepared the evening meal all by his lonesome. He thought perhaps his wife had gone out for a little call, but this proved to be a dream for she did not return that night.

Yesterday he ascertained that his wife had taken the train for the west. So he just kissed himself goodbye and returned home. He says he will not tolerate such a thing in his household; that if a woman is going to live with him she has got to do it, that's all, and there can't be any such monkey work. He will bring an action for divorce at once and it is presumed that it will be on the ground of desertion in the first degree.

SMALL CONFLAGRATION

Old Frame Building West of the Last Turn Saloon Burned this Morning at Early Hour—Losses Fully Covered.

This morning about 2 o'clock fire broke out in the old frame building next door west of the "Last Turn" saloon on Front street, and before any effective work could be done by the fire department the old shack had been almost completely burned and today it is a total loss.

The building had been occupied by Seymour Avery as a workshop and another man who sometime worked in there using Mr. Avery's tools. The fire started in the rear of the building on the inside and this morning those who were interested in the place were at a loss to know how it started. The old man Avery is said to have been very much intoxicated last night and in fact he was locked up in jail on the charge before morning, so that no one this morning was able to ascertain from him what he knew about the conflagration. A short time ago he took out $200 insurance on his tools and material and his loss is therefore fully covered.

The building was owned by P. B. Nettleton. He bought it some time ago from J. L. Smith. There was $400 insurance, and this, it is thought, will cover Mr. Nettleton's loss.

Once again the old "Last Turn" has been threatened but once again after the smoke had cleared away it rises Phoenix like from the ashes, and now that all the little shacks and frame buildings within a mile of it have been burned there is no immediate danger that it will catch fire.

EXPERIMENT WITH ALFALFA IN COUNTY

Indications are that it will be Good Crop in This Section of County.

NO BETTER FORAGE CROP CAN

Be Planted But it has not Been Fully Demonstrated in Crow Wing.

What is of interest to the farmers of Crow Wing and Morrison counties is also of interest to the people generally of this city, and hence some little pains has been taken by THE DISPATCH to gain some important information relative to an experiment which has been carried on with a new crop, not heretofore tried in the county. The crop referred to is alfalfa and should the demonstration prove successful it will mean considerable to the farmers of this section of the country, for there is no better forage in the world than this.

While the experiment with alfalfa has not been fully demonstrated enough has been learned, it is thought, to make the crop in northern Minnesota an assured success. In fact from the investigation and from samples taken off of Sec. 5-44-30 it must be concluded that every farmer in the county would be justified in sowing a small portion of his land to the crop.

The samples now on exhibition at J. Elder's office in this city were sown in the latter part of May this year and they are of the hardy, thrifty stock and look as though they would be able to fight their own battles in the future. The samples shown had already headed at the height of eighteen inches, with a root 8 to 10 inches long.

Experiment farms gives this as one of the best forage crops that can be raised, especially for cattle, sheep and hogs. On the irrigated lands in California and Washington the crop is cut from four to five times a year and the opinion of those who have made a study of the cereal is to the effect that at least three crops a year of alfalfa could be raised in this section, and with land worth $25 per acre without alfalfa, it would be worth $50 an acre with this crop, and every farmer should give it a thorough trial.

BASE BALL NUBS

Brainerd will see some good ball all around in a few days. Instead of the Verdale team the locals will play the St. Cloud Redmen team on Sunday afternoon, it being thought that the Redmen team would be the best drawing card. They played here once before this year and it is well known what article of ball they put up. They are good and fast and the game here Sunday should be well patronized. The locals will have a strong lineup for Sunday and there will be a good exhibition.

I had more or less pain and the renal secretions were acid in nature, thereby causing me considerable distress. I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from a drug store, and can state that they had the effect of completely altering the condition of my kidneys referred to above. I shall certainly continue to advise others to use this remedy if annoyed in any way from their kidneys."

VALUE OF MANCHURIA.

The Land of the Future, Says
John Barrett.

MOST PROGRESSIVE PART OF CHINA

Increase of Population and Material
Progress to Be More Noteworthy
There Than Elsewhere in the Empire—Rapidly Developing Market
For American Goods Assured—Why
Russia is a Formidable Competitor.

The Manufacturers' Record published recently an interview in regard to the significance of the opening of the new Manchurian ports with John Barrett, commissioner general to Asia of the Louisiana Purchase exposition. Mr. Barrett, who has recently been appointed United States minister to Argentina, was formerly United States minister to Siam and while in Asia made a careful study of the political and commercial conditions of China. He was in Manchuria in 1894, again in 1898 and last year made another visit there as the representative of the St. Louis exposition. In his statement, which he made at St. Louis, Mr. Barrett said:

"The importance of the enlarged commercial opening of Manchuria cannot be overestimated, especially in its bearing upon the market for the manufactured cotton goods of the south. Manchuria is sure to provide a rapidly developing market for all kinds of American manufactured products. It is my belief that northern China and Manchuria will always offer the best general market for American exports. It is the land of the future. It is the one portion of China where material progress and the increase of population will be more noteworthy than in any other portion of the empire.

"The present population of Manchuria, conservatively estimated, is approximately 6,000,000. It is not thickly settled, like most of the provinces of China proper. Wherever the traveler goes through Manchuria he is impressed with the opportunities for the growth of cities and towns, the improvement of the land and a general increase of population. The remarkable progress that this section has experienced during the last five years gives some idea of what will come in the future. There are cities of 25,000 population now where in 1892 there were small villages. There is no contradicting the fact that the construction of the Chinese Eastern railway has had much the same effect upon Manchuria as the building of the Northern Pacific had on the Dakotas, Montana, Oregon and Washington.

"It is interesting to note that the inhabitants of Manchuria and northern China seem not only to have taken a special liking to American cotton goods, but to have manifested a greater willingness to employ modern methods of life than the people of other portions of China. The rapid increase of the sales of cotton drills made largely by southern mills is proof of the popularity of these exports and a further evidence that the market for them in the future will be much greater than it is now. When I first visited Newchwang, some ten years ago, if I remember correctly the import of American goods amounted approximately to only 15 per cent of the total, as shown by the records of the Imperial customs. When I went there five years later American imports had grown to nearly 60 per cent of the total. The last report by United States Consul Miller at Newchwang says that the present value of cotton goods coming through that port is $12,180,000.

"He brings out one salient point which must not be forgotten, and that is that the Russian cotton manufacturers of central and southern Russia have their eyes on this wonderful market and are going to make every effort to capture it, assisted by low rates on the Transiberian railway and on the subsidized Russian commercial steamers plying regularly between the Black sea and gulf of Pechili. It is doubtful if the Transiberian railway, with its long overland haul, can ever give permanent rates that will compete with all water transportation from New York, New Orleans or San Francisco, but there is danger in the subsidized steamship competition. It will be a long time before the mills of Russia can make goods that will equal the American product in both quality and price, but a low freight rate is always a powerful leverage. In the meantime, however, before the cotton goods of Russia can be a great factor in the market, the American article should go on increasing its field of demand and its popularity, until it obtains a hold which cannot be taken away even by less cost of transportation."

Regarding Mukden and Tatungkao Mr. Barrett says that their accessibility under the head of open ports will mean much more in a few years than now.

Novel Summer Coat For Men.

This summer has witnessed many varieties of thin summer coats of wash silk, brought out for the comfort of man and intended strictly for use and not for ornament, but nothing has yet been offered in the way of a coat quite as gay as the new kimono smoking and office jackets of gauze trimmed in plain bands, or fancy borders to suit the taste of the wearer, says the New York Tribune. The gauze ground of the coat is dark, varying upon shades of color that look black at first sight, and the mesh of the material is strong. These coats are trimmed in bands of various colors, the dark, plain ones intended for more public appearances and the fancy ones meant to be worn when a man lounges in his smoking den or private apartment.

WHISTLER'S MARRIAGE.

How Labouchere Brought About the Artist's Wedding.

The New York Herald's European edition publishes the following from its London correspondent:

Henry Labouchere tells the following anecdote of James McNeill Whistler, which corrects certain apocryphal versions of the late artist's marriage:

"I believe," writes Mr. Labouchere, "I was responsible for his marriage to the widow of Mr. Godwin, the architect. She was a remarkably pretty woman and very agreeable, and both she and he were thorough Bohemians. "I was dining with them and some others one evening at Earl's Court. They were obviously greatly attracted to each other, and in a vague sort of way they thought of marrying; so I took the matter in hand to bring things to a practical point.

"Jimmy," I said, 'will you marry Mrs. Godwin?'
"Certainly," he replied.
"Mrs. Godwin," I said, 'will you marry Jimmy?'
"Certainly," she replied.
"When?" I asked.
"Oh, some day," said Whistler.
"That won't do," I said. 'We must have a date.'

"So they both agreed I should choose the day, tell them what church to come to for the ceremony, provide a clergyman and give the bride away.

"I fixed an early date and got them to perform the ceremony. It took place a few days later. After the ceremony was over we adjourned to Whistler's studio, where we had prepared a banquet. The banquet was on the table, but there were no chairs; so we sat on packing cases. The happy pair when I left had not quite decided whether they would go that evening to Paris or remain in the studio.

"How impractical they were was shown when I happened to meet the bride the day before the marriage in the street.

"Don't forget tomorrow," I said.
"No," she replied. 'I am just going to buy my trousseau.'

"A little late for that, is it not?" I asked.

"No," she answered, 'for I am only going to buy a toothbrush and a new sponge, as one ought to have new ones when one marries.'

"However, there never was a more successful marriage. They adored each other and lived most happily together, and when she died he was broken hearted indeed. He never recovered from the loss."

A CAVE FULL OF ICE FOUND

Enough to Supply a Big City For a Whole Summer.

Harrison Martin, a carpenter of Richmond, Va., has discovered a cave in Pocahontas county containing an inexhaustible supply of ice, says the New York World. By what strange freak of nature the ice was formed in the cave is not yet explained. Martin has built a passageway from the mouth of the cave, which is high on the side of a rugged hill, and is marketing the ice over many miles of territory.

Martin was prospecting about in an aimless way when he saw the hole in the side of the hill. The opening interested him so that he decided to investigate. He let himself down to it by a rope from some trees above, and on entering was astonished to find himself in a vast hall piled high with irregular blocks of ice. The ice pile extended as far as he could see, and is sufficient for the needs of a big city for a whole summer.

The Rhodes Scholarships.

The first election of scholars in the United States under the Cecil Rhodes scholarship bequest will be held between February and May, 1904, and those chosen will commence their residence in October, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. Committees have been appointed in each state, which will appoint one candidate from each state. The examination will be based upon the entrance examination at Oxford and will consist of tests in arithmetic, either algebra or geometry, Greek and Latin grammar, Latin prose composition and Latin and Greek authors.

A Warning From France.

Under the caption of "Neurasthenia" the Journal des Debats of Paris says: "This is becoming a popular American malady, Alice Roosevelt having made it quite modish. The doctors ordered absolute rest for a year, after calculating that in fifteen months the president's daughter had attended 408 dinners, 300 parties, 350 balls and 680 afternoon teas, shaking hands in that time with 32,000 people, besides paying 1,706 calls." The Debats counsels Americans, says the New York World, to remember that there is a limit to human endurance.

Leo XII.—July 20, 1903.

Our eyes may view the surging of the sea,
Our ears may thrill with wailing of the wind—
With wonder of the storms when shores are lined
By wrecks of sunken barks—and fury's free.
But who can view the force that bends the knee
Of godlike man or hear the haughty mind
Yield to the heart, and who has yet divined
Love's potent process which no man can see?
Not through the stress of earthly might, but love,
And not by power of arms or deadly strife.
But stronger than the storms that rage and shout,
O luminous, pale figure, high above
The turmoil and the terror of our life,
Thou hast, O Spirit, conquered even doubt!

SEVERE RACING TRIAL.

Shamrock III Shows Her Mettle in a Raging Sea.

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., July 31.—In a sea rougher than any she had ever raced in before, and with a wind which at times blew more than 12 knots an hour, Shamrock III Thursday experienced her most severe racing trial and acquitted herself as became a candidate for the America's cup. Her performance in eight miles of windward work in which it was estimated that she beat her sister by 6 minutes, was a surprise. The two Shamrocks left Sandy Hook lightship in a 10-knot breeze at 11:08. With every stitch of canvas drawing the boats went tearing into the teeth of the short, sharp sea. Steadily the challenger drew away a few hundred yards and to leeward. It was dangerous racing in such rough water and after half an hour, when Shamrock III had a comfortable lead over Shamrock I, they went about and ran back to Sandy Hook lightship.

At the turn of the lightship at 11:35, Shamrock III was 30 seconds ahead. Both boats were fairly flying. Hauling on the wind for a beat down the Jersey coast, Shamrock III surprised even her admirers. Shamrock quickly dropped away to leeward. For an hour and seven minutes they worked to windward and when eight miles from Sandy Hook, the challenger was 6 minutes ahead of the old boat. In a puff of wind a split about two feet long occurred near the peak of the mainsail of Shamrock I, and the trial was abandoned.

The Land of the Future, Says
John Barrett.

MOST PROGRESSIVE PART OF CHINA

Increase of Population and Material
Progress to Be More Noteworthy
There Than Elsewhere in the Empire—Rapidly Developing Market
For American Goods Assured—Why
Russia is a Formidable Competitor.

The Manufacturers' Record published recently an interview in regard to the significance of the opening of the new Manchurian ports with John Barrett, commissioner general to Asia of the Louisiana Purchase exposition. Mr. Barrett, who has recently been appointed United States minister to Argentina, was formerly United States minister to Siam and while in Asia made a careful study of the political and commercial conditions of China. He was in Manchuria in 1894, again in 1898 and last year made another visit there as the representative of the St. Louis exposition. In his statement, which he made at St. Louis, Mr. Barrett said:

"The importance of the enlarged commercial opening of Manchuria cannot be overestimated, especially in its bearing upon the market for the manufactured cotton goods of the south. Manchuria is sure to provide a rapidly developing market for all kinds of American manufactured products. It is my belief that northern China and Manchuria will always offer the best general market for American exports. It is the land of the future. It is the one portion of China where material progress and the increase of population will be more noteworthy than in any other portion of the empire."

"The present population of Manchuria, conservatively estimated, is approximately 6,000,000. It is not thickly settled, like most of the provinces of China proper. Wherever the traveler goes through Manchuria he is impressed with the opportunities for the growth of cities and towns, the improvement of the land and a general increase of population. The remarkable progress that this section has experienced during the last five years gives some idea of what will come in the future. There are cities of 25,000 population now where in 1892 there were small villages. There is no contradicting the fact that the construction of the Chinese Eastern railway has had much the same effect upon Manchuria as the building of the Northern Pacific had on the Dakotas, Montana, Oregon and Washington."

"It is interesting to note that the inhabitants of Manchuria and northern China seem not only to have taken a special liking to American cotton goods, but to have manifested a greater willingness to employ modern methods of life than the people of other portions of China. The rapid increase of the sales of cotton drills made largely by southern mills is proof of the popularity of these exports and a further evidence that the market for them in the future will be much greater than it is now. When I first visited Newchwang, some ten years ago, if I remember correctly the import of American goods amounted approximately to only 15 per cent of the total, as shown by the records of the imperial customs. When I went there five years later American imports had grown to nearly 60 per cent of the total. The last report by United States Consul Miller at Newchwang says that the present value of cotton goods coming through that port is $12,180,000."

"He brings out one salient point which must not be forgotten, and that is that the Russian cotton manufacturers of central and southern Russia have their eyes on this wonderful market and are going to make every effort to capture it, assisted by low rates on the Transiberian railway and on the subsidized Russian commercial steamers plying regularly between the Black sea and gulf of Pechili. It is doubtful if the Transiberian railway, with its long overland haul, can ever give permanent rates that will compete with all water transportation from New York, New Orleans or San Francisco, but there is danger in the subsidized steamship competition. It will be a long time before the mills of Russia can make goods that will equal the American product in both quality and price, but a low freight rate is always a powerful leverage. In the meantime, however, before the cotton goods of Russia can be a great factor in the market, the American article should go on increasing its field of demand and its popularity, until it obtains a hold which cannot be taken away even by less cost of transportation."

Regarding Mukden and Tatungkao Mr. Barrett says that their accessibility under the head of open ports will mean much more in a few years than now.

Novel Summer Coat For Men.

This summer has witnessed many varieties of thin summer coats of wash silk, brought out for the comfort of man and intended strictly for use and not for ornament, but nothing has yet been offered in the way of a coat quite as gay as the new kimono smoking and office jackets of gauze trimmed in plain bands, or fancy borders to suit the taste of the wearer, says the New York Tribune. The gauze ground of the coat is dark, varying upon shades of color that look black at first sight, and the mesh of the material is strong. These coats are trimmed in bands of various colors, the dark, plain ones intended for more public appearances and the fancy ones meant to be worn when a man lounges in his smoking den or private apartment.

WHISTLER'S MARRIAGE.

How Labouchere Brought About the Artist's Wedding.

The New York Herald's European edition publishes the following from its London correspondent:

Henry Labouchere tells the following anecdote of James McNeill Whistler, which corrects certain apocryphal versions of the late artist's marriage:

"I believe," writes Mr. Labouchere, "I was responsible for his marriage to the widow of Mr. Godwin, the architect. She was a remarkably pretty woman and very agreeable, and both she and he were thorough Bohemians. "I was dining with them and some others one evening at Earl's Court. They were obviously greatly attracted to each other, and in a vague sort of way they thought of marrying; so I took the matter in hand to bring things to a practical point."

"'Jimmy,' I said, 'will you marry Mrs. Godwin?'"
"Certainly," he replied.
"'Mrs. Godwin,' I said, 'will you marry Jimmy?'"
"Certainly," she replied.
"'When?' I asked.
"'Oh, some day,' said Whistler.
"'That won't do,' I said. 'We must have a date.'"

"So they both agreed I should choose the day, tell them what church to come to for the ceremony, provide a clergyman and give the bride away. "I fixed an early date and got them the chaplain of the house of commons to perform the ceremony. It took place a few days later. After the ceremony was over we adjourned to Whistler's studio, where we had prepared a banquet. The banquet was on the table, but there were no chairs; so we sat on packing cases. The happy pair when I left had not quite decided whether they would go that evening to Paris or remain in the studio."

"How impractical they were was shown when I happened to meet the bride the day before the marriage in the street."

"'Don't forget tomorrow,' I said.
"'No,' she replied. 'I am just going to buy my trousseau.'"

"'A little late for that, is it not?' I asked.

"'No,' she answered, 'for I am only going to buy a toothbrush and a new sponge, as one ought to have new ones when one marries.'"

"However, there never was a more successful marriage. They adored each other and lived most happily together, and when she died he was broken hearted indeed. He never recovered from the loss."

ACAVE FULL OF ICE FOUND

Enough to Supply a Big City For a Whole Summer.

Harrison Martin, a carpenter of Richmond, Va., has discovered a cave in Pocahontas county containing an inexhaustible supply of ice, says the New York World. By what strange freak of nature the ice was formed in the cave is not yet explained. Martin has built a passageway from the mouth of the cave, which is high on the side of a rugged hill, and is marketing the ice over many miles of territory.

Martin was prospecting about in an aimless way when he saw the hole in the side of the hill. The opening interested him so that he decided to investigate. He let himself down to it by a rope from some trees above, and on entering was astonished to find himself in a vast hall piled high with irregular blocks of ice. The ice pile extended as far as he could see, and is sufficient for the needs of a big city for a whole summer.

The Rhodes Scholarships.

The first election of scholars in the United States under the Cecil Rhodes scholarship bequest will be held between February and May, 1904, and those chosen will commence their residence in October, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. Committees have been appointed in each state, which will appoint one candidate from each state. The examination will be based upon the entrance examination at Oxford and will consist of tests in arithmetic, either algebra or geometry, Greek and Latin grammar, Latin prose composition and Latin and Greek authors.

A Warning From France.

Under the caption of "Neurasthenia" the Journal des Debats of Paris says: "This is becoming a popular American malady. Alice Roosevelt having made it quite modish. The doctors ordered absolute rest for a year, after calculating that in fifteen months the president's daughter had attended 408 dinners, 300 parties, 350 balls and 680 afternoon teas, shaking hands in that time with 32,000 people, besides paying 1,706 calls." The Debats counsels Americans, says the New York World, to remember that there is a limit to human endurance.

SEVERE RACING TRIAL.

Shamrock III Shows Her Mettle in a Raging Sea.

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., July 31.—In a sea rougher than any she had ever raced in before, and with a wind which at times blew more than 12 knots an hour, Shamrock III Thursday experienced her most severe racing trial and acquitted herself as became a candidate for the America's cup. Her performance in eight miles of windward work in which it was estimated that she beat her sister by 6 minutes, was a surprise. The two Shamrocks left Sandy Hook lightship in a 10-knot breeze at 11:08. With every stitch of canvas drawing the boats went tearing into the teeth of the short, sharp sea. Steadily the challenger drew away a few hundred yards and to leeward. It was dangerous racing in such rough water and after half an hour, when Shamrock III had a comfortable lead over Shamrock I, they went about and ran back to Sandy Hook lightship. At the turn of the lightship at 11:25, Shamrock III was 30 seconds ahead. Both boats were fairly flying. Hauling on the wind for a beat down the Jersey coast, Shamrock III surprised even her admirers. Shamrock I quickly dropped away to leeward. For an hour and seven minutes they worked to windward and when eight miles from Sandy Hook, the challenger was 6 minutes ahead of the old boat. In a puff of wind a split about two feet long occurred near the peak of the mainsail of Shamrock I, and the trial was abandoned.
